UCO Corporation Under New Management

UCO Corporation, the maker of UCO products including Candle Lanterns and the Camper's Dream Ice Cream Maker, is under new management effective April 1, 2005. Keith Jackson, President of Industrial Revolution, Inc. has acquired UCO from Greg Draper. Greg will continue to be involved with the company during a transition period. Both Keith and Greg are dedicated to making the transition seamless and successful, keeping Industrial Revolution, Inc. focused on delivering high-quality UCO products in a timely manner to their customers.

As an engineer by trade, Keith Jackson is looking for new products to serve the outdoor market. However, he is also keenly aware that his customers are interested in making sure he meets needs in their mainstay products, whether it be Candle Lanterns, or their exciting new product, the Camper's Dream Ice Cream Maker. Keith intends to remain focused on quality, cost, and delivery as he grows the company.

Keith also announces that Industrial Revolution has hired Steve Llorente as Director, Sales & Marketing. Steve brings to Industrial Revolution more than 19 years of experience at the Boeing Company in Sales, Marketing, Engineering and Manufacturing.
